About Me

I am a German-speaking Frontend Developer with experience in building web apps with JavaScript & Angular.

I started my IT journey with an Entry-Level Python Certificate at home and then decided to get professional training and build top class projects. Due to structured work, analytical thinking and problem solving, I have written projects alone or in teams, based on clean code principles. You're welcome to visit my public portfolio, which includes my work (e.g.: Join, El Pollo Loco, Pokedex, Ring of Fire).

I am looking forward to building on my experience and starting my career in IT in a junior developer position.
