About Me

I am a German-speaking Frontend Developer with experience in building web apps with JavaScript & Angular.

I started my IT journey coding Python and getting Python Certificates and then decided to get professional training and build complex projects and business apps. I have written projects alone and in teams including web apps, landing pages and OOP-based games based on clean code principles. You're welcome to visit my public portfolio,

I am looking forward to building on my experience and starting my career in IT in a junior developer position.

Stack

Main Stack:
- JavaScript
- TypeScript, Angular
- HTML, CSS/SCSS, Bootstrap

Side Stack:
- Git, APIs (REST), Google Firebase

Skills

- JavaScript & Angular Application Development:
  Cultivated experience in building landing pages, web apps, and object-oriented programming (OOP) based jump-and-run games using JavaScript and Angular.

- Software Team Collaboration:
  Throughout my professional development, I actively participated in numerous group projects, gaining valuable experience in collaborating within software teams.

- Strong Work Organization:
  From retail experience I have developed effective work organization skills that directly apply to web development. Skilled in managing tasks, coordinating deadlines, and maintaining a well-structured workflow to ensure efficient project completion.
